

December 4, 2020

Dear National University Veteran Student,

President Andrews sent a letter today to inform students, faculty, and staff that National University will continue remote operations and the suspension of on-site instruction for most courses until July 2021, and until further notice.

However, veteran students will continue receiving benefits, including Monthly Housing Allowance, at the resident rate until December 21, 2021 or until the school resumes in-person courses, whichever occurs first. Veteran students must continue to meet all benefits eligibility criteria through December 21, 2021.

The recent passage of H.R.8337 enables the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to continue providing the same level of education benefits to students having to take courses online due to the novel coronavirus \(COVID-19\) outbreak.

The law gives VA temporary authority to continue payments uninterrupted in the event of national emergencies, allowing for continued benefits even if the program has changed from resident training to online training.

Students receiving benefits are not required to take any action. If you were scheduled to take an on-site course, National University will continue to certify your attendance as such for the upcoming terms.

We encourage you to contact veteransaffairs@nu.edu if you have any questions. Each of us is reminded that we must continue to practice guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and public health agencies to limit and slow the spread of COVID-19. Please visit nu.edu/coronavirus for the latest updates on NU's response to COVID-19.

Sincerely,

Veronica Garcia
